Figure 2. Race and Ethnicity Among Immigrants

	Foreign Born	Native Born
White	47%	77%
Asian	27%	2%
Black	9%	13%
Other race	15%	3%
Two or more races	2%	5%
Not Hispanic	55%	87%
Hispanic	45%	13%
Estimated Population	43,079,912	277,924,495

Figure 2 shows that most immigrants living in the United States identified either as White, Asian, or some other race. Specifically, there is a significantly higher share of immigrants who identify as Asian compared to the native born. The vast majority of the native born identified as White or Black. The percentage of immigrants who identify as Hispanic is much higher compared to native-born individuals.

All analysis in this fact sheet is based on source data from the U.S. Census Bureau American Community Survey, 2013-2017 distributed through IPUMS-USA, University of Minnesota, www.ipums.org.

*Please note that the terms “immigrant” and “foreign born” are used interchangeably throughout this fact sheet. Foreign born refers to individuals who are not a U.S. citizen at birth or who were born outside the U.S., Puerto Rico or other U.S. territories and whose parents are not U.S. citizens. The foreign born may include naturalized U.S. citizens, Legal Permanent Residents, temporary residents, refugees and asylees, and others. Additionally, native born includes those who are U.S. citizens at birth, those born in the United States, Puerto Rico, or other U.S. territories, and those born abroad to a parent who is a U.S. citizen.

IMMIGRATION DATA ON DEMAND (iDod)

iDod
Immigration
Data on Demand

The iDod service is offered free of charge to help individuals and institutions examine the immigrant populations of their particular geography. Recipients of this data will see how immigrants provide vital contributions to the economy and society of the U.S. Ultimately, the goal of the iDod project is to create collaborations and connect people with data of interest on immigrant populations from their particular geographic region or economic sector.
