HISTORY 403: ERA OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, 1763-1800

What was the American Revolution? How revolutionary was it? For whom? This course considers these questions by considering the many transformations of politics, society, and culture that collectively made up the American Revolution. We will trace the course of the Revolutionary Era from the imperial crisis of the 1760s through the election of Thomas Jefferson in 1800 and the “settling” of the Revolution in the early nineteenth century. In the process, we will consider the actions and ideas of political leaders along with the experiences of other Americans—poor farmers and urban artisans, women of different classes, slaves and free African Americans, Native Americans, and more—and the ways in which they both shaped and were affected by the changes of the Revolutionary Era.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING

Class Participation and Preparation: This course is heavily based on discussion—your attendance and active participation are crucial to its success. Not coincidentally, participation is a significant portion of your grade. Evidence of preparation (i.e. having done and thought about the reading and any discussion questions), quality of discussion, engagement with other students’ ideas, and appropriate behavior all factor into the class participation grade. Obviously, if you are not in class, you are not participating. Please see the Participation Rubric posted on Blackboard for a guide to expectations.

Preparation also includes bringing a copy of the reading, something to write with, and paper to write on in order to be ready for any in-class writing or exercises we may do. (This is subject to accommodation for students with disabilities that may interfere with their ability to write using traditional media.)

Short Exercises: Each week (except when a longer essay is due) there will be a brief written assignment based on the readings or other exercises (in or out of class) used to encourage thought and discussion. Details and instructions for each specific short exercise will be discussed in class and posted on Blackboard. Often these will simply be reactions to the reading; other times they might be explorations of primary sources available through various databases; sometimes they might be brief thought pieces asking you to reflect on what we’ve done so far. They don’t usually require much sustained writing, but they should be the result of significant consideration and effort. These will be graded on a check-plus, check, or check-minus scale, with a check-plus being the equivalent of an A, a check the equivalent of a B, and a check-minus the equivalent of a C. Work that falls short of that standard will not receive credit.

Please note: Short exercises may not be turned in late—they’re due at class time on the day for which they are assigned. I will drop the two lowest grades on these, so there is a bit of a built in cushion for unavoidable, unplanned absences. If you know ahead of time you will be absent on a day when a short exercise is due, you may email the completed assignment before class.

Also note: When assigned ahead of time, these must be word processed and printed. In-class exercises may be hand-written. In both cases, make sure to put your name on it.

Essays: You will write two five- to six-page essays based on course materials, one in the first half of the semester and one in the second half. Details of these assignments will be distributed in class.

Final Exam: There will be a final exam in the course on Monday, December 18, from 10:30 AM to 1:15 PM. Exact format TBD, based on class interest, dynamics

Grading:
- Participation 20%
- Short Exercises 20%
- Papers (together) 40%
- Final 20%

IN-CLASS BEHAVIOR
Behaviors such as frequent tardiness, leaving early, packing up to leave before class is over, sleeping, eating, talking when others are speaking, texting, checking email, using social media, and doing work for other classes are signals to me and to the rest of the class that you do not take the course seriously. All of these have a strong negative effect on your own learning as well as on your classmates’ ability to concentrate in class. These behaviors will adversely affect your participation grade.

LAPTOP & DEVICE USAGE GUIDELINES
Recent research suggests that taking notes by hand is significantly more effective than typing on a computer—it requires more effort to think about what you are hearing and figure out what’s important to write down, and thus promotes greater retention of class material. Laptops can provide nearly endless possibilities for distraction—not just for the student but for others in the class as well. It is also extremely distracting for the professor when it is obvious someone is looking at something on their computer rather than paying attention to class—we can usually tell. So please take some time to consider whether that laptop is necessary or if it will prove a hard-to-resist distraction.

If you do decide to use a laptop in class, you must TURN OFF YOUR WIFI CONNECTION WHILE IN CLASS in order to avoid the distractions mentioned above.
I reserve the right to ask people to close their computers for periods of the class, to switch seats, or to turn off their computers if they prove distracting to you, me, or your classmates.

LATE PAPER POLICY

All assignments are officially due in hard copy at the beginning of class on the day they are due (although in practice they’re usually collected at the end of class). Essays turned in later the same day are subject to a penalty of three (3) points (out of 100). Essays turned in the following day are subject to a five-point (5) penalty. Each subsequent day, a similar 5 point penalty will accrue, which means eventually the penalty would outweigh the total value of the assignment. Don’t let this happen.

IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO MAKE SURE I GET THE PAPER. If you do not turn in the paper in class, you assume all risk of any mischance. Papers are not considered to be turned in until I hold them in my hands, or, in the case of electronic submissions, when I email you to confirm trouble-free receipt. If you turn in your paper electronically, please save and send your paper as a Microsoft Word (.doc or .docx), PDF, or Rich Text Format (.rtf) document. You assume all risk of unopenable or missing attachments.

Extensions will be granted at my discretion in appropriate circumstances IF YOU CONSULT WITH ME BEFORE THE DUE DATE. In appropriate circumstances and entirely at my discretion, I will negotiate a new due date for papers that are already late, assessing a fixed penalty rather than the daily one outlined above. BUT, failure to meet the new deadline will result in failure (no credit) of the assignment.

In general, if you have any kind of problem that interferes with your work for the class, please consult with me as soon as possible.

HONOR CODE AND PLAGIARISM STATEMENT

All work in this course is governed by the George Mason University honor code:

To promote a stronger sense of mutual responsibility, respect, trust, and fairness among all members of the George Mason University community and with the desire for greater academic and personal achievement, we, the student members of the university community, have set forth this honor code: Student members of the George Mason University community pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.
