Contact information and Office Hours:

Email: jwilli98@gmu.edu Please use your GMU email address for school business.

Art History Department Phone: 703-993-1250

Office: Robinson B: 348

Office hours (time set aside for student walk-ins and student meetings): to be announced, or by appointment

Please note: professors are to be addressed by the professional title as given by the university and their peers: in this case “Professor” and/or “Doctor” (not “Mr.” “Ms.” “Miss” “Mrs.” These titles indicate marital status and/or gender identity and are not professional titles in Universities.)

Description:

Students will learn the most recent advances in the field of gender studies in antiquity and learn how to apply that knowledge to several examples in the ancient Egypt where gender was a significant factor in the creation of a power dynamic. For example students will study the power inherent in the divine nature of the Egyptian Queen. The class will also include an in-depth study of Cleopatra VII and the gendered nature of the conflict between Hellenistic Egypt and Rome. This class will study examples of scholarship outside of Egypt to learn how to ask new questions and dissect traditional narratives. Students will gain the tools they need to analyze similar issues in the past and in the modern world.

Students must successfully complete all requirements in order to pass the course.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

- Class attendance and in-class discussion exercises.
- Assigned readings, including websites and documents on the Internet.
 - All readings will be available as pdfs on the Blackboard site for this class
- Critical Thinking Papers (with a final rewritten version to be handed in at the last class, see details below)
- Graduate students will have different requirements, as outlined on Blackboard

Critical Thinking Papers:

- Over the semester, you will write several 1-2-page critical thinking papers.

- Undergraduates will write five papers, graduate students will write seven papers
- To write this paper, you will use the Critical Thinking Worksheet in the Assignments section on the Blackboard page for this course. However, you will NOT just answer the questions on that worksheet by number. You will use that worksheet as an outline to structure your paper.
- Each paper will be handed in on the due dates listed in the syllabus.

Final Critical Thinking paper: revised and rewritten

- This paper will be handed in during the last class of the semester.
- You will choose one of the critical thinking papers you wrote during the course of the semester, and rewrite it according to the suggestions and feedback provided. (note: you may not choose a paper that has no suggestions for revision.) These suggestions may include questions of style, composition, and spelling as well as questions of content.
- You will reread the original article/book excerpt/etc. Have your answers changed? Do you understand it in a different way now that you have read more? Be sure to include a discussion of connecting articles/book excerpts, etc. that may have helped you understand the original article better (cite these works also, preferably by footnote and the Chicago Manual of Style method.)
- This revised version will be 3-4 pages in length.
- TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS:
- GMU email accounts—only GMU accounts will get announcements and grading access.
- Ability to find and print on-line text documents from the Internet and Blackboard.
- Computerized word-processing with spell-checkers and decent printers for all written work.

Week 11 11/06

Self-Guided museum visit: The Walters Art Museum in Baltimore has an excellent collection of ancient Egyptian art.

Admittance is free.

Visit the museum armed with your new knowledge of ancient Egypt. Take a selfie with an object that stands out to you, write up your impressions of the object in two paragraphs and hand it in for the next class on the 13th (with a print out of your selfie). Note that this exercise takes the place of the attendance credit for this week’s class, and is not one of the assigned critical thinking papers. Thus you do not need to take particular care with the writing, just jot down your impressions and thoughts.

Week 12 11/13 Guest speaker: Elizabeth Waraksa: Female Figurines in Egyptian religion

Subject: Female Figurines: magic and sex

Waraksa, Elizabeth A. “Female Figurines in the Pharonic Period,” UCLA Encyclopedia of Egyptology, 2008.

Week 15: 12/4 Final Revised Critical Thinking Paper due: all students

Subject: Broader contexts and ancient origins of modern misogyny

Mary Beard, Women and Power: A Manifesto, Profile Books, 2017 All (don't worry, it's short)

CLASS POLICIES

Attendance is necessary; much of the material will only be covered in our lectures. You are responsible for getting notes, and for all consequences of missed classes. Class participation will affect your grade.

Classroom atmosphere. Courtesy and common sense, please. Talking during lectures, wandering in and out, cell phones, and eating food (unless the class agrees it is OK) are all badly distracting to everyone else. Disruptive individuals can be asked to leave, according to GMU policy.

Laptop computers are fine for taking notes in class. No Facebook, Solitaire, etc. Phones will be turned off at all times, of course, as a courtesy to all.

Late work will be graded down five points per weekday and ten points over a weekend. Plan ahead--last-minute hard-disk and printer failures do not constitute legitimate excuses.

English as a Second Language: If English is not your first language, I will be happy to help you do your best in the writing assignments. The final result must be written in good standard English. Please work with The Writing Center <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/resources/> and <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/> Call them at (703) 993-1200, or see their web page for English language help, at: <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu>. You may also want to work with GMU's English Language Institute (ELI). Call them at (703) 993-3664, or visit their website at <http://eli.gmu.edu>

Learning disabilities. If you are a student with disabilities, and you need academic accommodations, please see me and contact the Office of Disabilities Resources (ODS) or 703-993-2474. Website: <http://ds.gmu.edu/> All academic accommodations must be arranged through that office.

Religious holidays. This syllabus is arranged according to the George Mason University calendar. If you observe a religious holiday that the University does not, please let me know and I will make necessary accommodations for you (but not for the whole class).

Auditors are welcome to sit and listen, if there is room. If they would like to participate more actively, that's fine with me if (!!) you are keeping up with the assigned class reading.

Honor Code and Academic honesty is expected in all tests and writing, according to the GMU Honor Code. "Student members of the George Mason University community pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work." Please respect the Honor Code, our classroom standards, your fellow students, and yourself. Please report violations to the Honor Committee, using the procedures explained in the website.

GRADING POLICIES

See the grade rubric above (before the schedule of readings).

Final grades may be raised or lowered from strict average in the following circumstances:

Class participation improves/deteriorates

Reliability is stellar (always on time, always prepared, etc.) or poor (bad attendance, never prepared)

Significant improvement over the semester (Student begins semester poorly but then does better)

Grades will be calculated as follows:

A = 100% to 93%, or 4.00

A- = 92% to 90%, or 3.67

B+ = 89% to 87%, or 3.33

B = 86% to 83 %, or 3.00

B- = 82% to 80 %, or 2.67

C+ = 79% to 77 %, or 2.33

C = 76% to 73 %, or 2.00

C- = 72% to 70 %, or 1.67

D = 60% to 66%, or 1.0

F = below 60% receives no credit

I may award a final A+ in rare instances: 4.0 average plus unusually good writing and class participation.

WRITTEN WORK may be graded by points, or by the following criteria, as appropriate:

A = Startlingly good, exceeding expectations, and well written. Must be imaginative;

NOT given for simply following directions.

B = Good effort with a good result.

C = Perfunctory; or, tried but missed the point; or, did something well but it wasn't the assignment; or, good idea but careless or sloppy.

D = Warning: accepted under protest.

F = Unacceptable as college-level work.

Paper grades will be lowered for lateness, sloppiness, lack of proofreading, bad English, lack of necessary documentation/supporting evidence/footnoting, faulty logic, or failure to follow directions for the assignment. Please study the directions for writing assignments, elsewhere in this syllabus.

Late written work: Papers are due in class in hard copy on the day specified. After that, late papers will be lowered five points a day, or half a grade, during the work week (Mon-Fri) and lowered ten points over a weekend. Note that this makes even “A” work into “F” work after ten days. If you need an extension, you must ask for it before the due date if you want to avoid a penalty.

Class participation grade:

“A” Level: Great class participation—student demonstrates understanding of subject and the ability to think critically about it, makes connections with other students and encourages friendly and positive discussion, no “one-upping.”

“B” level: Normal class participation—student shows up on time, keeps up with classwork, participates in group activities, does not cause problems

“C” level: Student shows poor class attendance, does not pay attention, is not up to date with reading, is disruptive, etc.

“D-F” level: Student will get a D-F in class participation automatically if they use their personal technology devices in any way that is not connected to the classroom. IE no Facebook, Tinder, Snapchat, etc. etc. etc. You are allowed to monitor emergency campus alerts of course.

Outside of this classroom:

If you or anyone you know has been subjected to any form of harassment (due to race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, etc.), please consider a visit to GMU’s Department of Education’s Office for Civil Rights. They will be supportive and discreet. GMU is proud of its diverse student body and committed to protecting the rights and the dignity of all students.
