Course Description:
This course focuses the African American experience in the United States from the Transatlantic Slave Trade through Reconstruction. In the first half of the semester, we explore the formation and repercussions of the Transatlantic Slave Trade and explore how African culture transformed early American life in the New World. We study the slave experience in colonial New England; plantation life in the South; and the history of free blacks including their participation during the American Revolutionary War. The second half of the semester examines slavery and slave culture in antebellum America, slave resistance including the Underground Railroad, and the national abolitionist movement. The course concludes with analysis of African American participation in the Civil War as well as studying how enslaved African Americans responded to freedom and Reconstruction after the war.

Grading and Assignments:
In this course, you will be graded in three major areas:

1) Class participation: (20%)
2) Written assignments:
   Discussion Board Posts/Responses (20%)
   Two Reaction Papers (20%)
3) Exams:
   Midterm exam (20%)
   Final exam (20%)
Work Groups:
To make the workload for this class more manageable, I have assigned students to small “work groups” (e.g. Group 1, Group 2, etc.). Each week, your work group will have one of three assignments to complete:

- Reaction Paper
- Discussion Board Post
- Response to Discussion Board Post

Our Blackboard webpage will direct you to the assignment you are responsible to complete each week.

Grade Assessment:
- Class participation: Class participation is crucial to one's overall grade and will be assessed by attendance and active participation in class discussions. Regular attendance, evidence of preparation (i.e. having completed and thought about the assigned readings), offering relevant commentary, respectful engagement with other students’ ideas, completion of in-class assignments, and appropriate class behavior all factor into the class participation grade. If you are unable to attend class for any reason, it is helpful to notify me via e-mail.

- Written Assignments:
  - Discussion board postings: When your group is assigned a discussion board post, each member of your group should write an individual discussion board post and upload it to Blackboard by noon on Thursdays. Discussion posts should be concise (300-500 words) and should focus on what you found most provocative about the reading assignment. Please do not summarize the readings in these posts. Discuss what surprised you or deepened your understanding of the course topics for the week. For more details about how to write a successful discussion board post, please review the Discussion Board Post Rubric on our course Blackboard page.

  - Response to Discussion Board Posts: When your group is assigned to respond to discussion board posts, each member of your group should write a response to two of the posts submitted by other students participating in the discussion board for that week. Please post your response to the discussion board no later than 11:59 pm on Thursdays. Responses to posts should be approximately 75-100 words; show respect to the person who wrote the post, and should offer meaningful feedback (e.g. Simply writing, “Good job!” is insufficient.) For complete details, see Discussion Board instructions on Blackboard.

  - Reaction Papers: These papers are individual assignments. The first paper will be 3-4 pages in length; the second paper will be 4-6 pages in length. For more details about how to write a successful response paper, please review the Reaction Paper Rubric on Blackboard.
Leading Class Discussion: On the week that your work group’s second Reaction Paper is due, your work group will be responsible for leading class discussion. Your group will work together to brainstorm discussion ideas and compile any other additional materials (e.g. PowerPoint slideshow) that might spark discussion for the class. Additional details for this assignment are available on Blackboard.

- Exams:
  - You will have a midterm and final exam. In the exams, you will be responsible for all material covered in course readings, lectures, and any additional materials--films, music, etc.

Required Readings:
- Deborah Gray White, et. al., Freedom on My Mind, Vol. 1
- Kenneth Greenberg, ed., The Confessions of Nat Turner
- Leon Litwack, Been in the Storm So Long
- William Piersen, Black Yankees
- Peter Hinks, ed., David Walker's Appeal

Class Policies:
1) Punctuality: Please make every effort to arrive in class on time; arriving late to class is disruptive.

2) Cell phones: Turn off or silence cell phones before class begins and refrain from any texting during class.

3) Laptop Free Zone: Laptops and other electronic devices may not be used except by special arrangement. For my rationale on this policy, see Jennifer Senior, “The Case Against Laptops in the Classroom,” Science of Us, July 9, 2015. Please bring a notebook and pen or pencil with which to take notes.

4) Email Communication: As a state employee, I am required to use my GMU email for all work communications. Students are also required to use their GMU email for all communications related to your courses. This is done to protect your privacy and the security of information related to your education. It is your responsibility to regularly check your GMU email account for course announcements. Failure to routinely check your GMU email account may negatively affect your grade in the course as you could miss key updates on course assignments or syllabus revisions.

5) Honor Code: All of George Mason University's academic policies and honor code apply to this course. Plagiarism means using the exact words, opinions, or information from another person without giving proper credit. Self-plagiarism involves recycling papers from previous coursework. If you have any doubts about what constitutes plagiarism, please see me. Violators will be brought before the University's Honor Committee for disciplinary action. For details, see the Undergraduate Catalog.
6) Disability Accommodations: If you are a student with a disability and you need academic accommodations, please see me and contact the Office of Disability Resources at 703-993-2474. All academic accommodations are arranged through that office.
